

Youth & Family Advocacy

Waypoint can help parents who have experienced domestic violence in finding ways to rebuild and strengthen relationships with their children. Youth and family advocacy can help families find housing, navigate DHS involvement, explore parenting techniques, navigate the legal system, create safety plans, and connect families to resources.